The committee appointed to prepare rules for the regulation and government of the House, reported the following, viz.

1st. That each Member shall seasonably and punctually attend his duty in the House.

2d. When the House adjourn, each member shall keep his seat until the speaker goes out.

3d. The speaker shall preserve decorum and order in the House, and may speak to points of order in preference to other members, rising from his seat for that purpose, and shall decide questions of order, subject to an appeal to the House.

4th. The speaker shall rise to put a question, but may state it sitting.

5th.

5th. When a member is about to speak in debate, or deliver any matter to the House, he shall arise from his seat and respectfully address the Speaker.

6th. If any member in speaking, or otherwise transgress the rules of the House, the speaker shall, or any other member may call him to order, in which case, the member so called to order, shall immediately sit down, unless permitted to explain, and the House if appealed to shall decide the case, but without debate, but if there be no appeal, the decision of the speaker shall be submitted to.

7th. No member shall speak more than twice to the same question, without leave of the House, nor more than once, until every member choosing to speak shall have spoken.

8th. When the speaker is putting a question, each member shall keep his seat until the question is decided, nor shall any one when a member is speaking pass between him and the speaker.

9th. Every member who is in the House when any question is put, if he hath heard the debate, shall vote thereon, unless excused by the House.

10th. No debate shall be allowed on any motion until the same shall be seconded, and any motion shall be reduced to writing and divided if any member desire it.

11th. A motion may be withdrawn at any time before it be divided or amended, and a motion for adjournment shall always be in order, and when a motion is regularly before the House no new motion shall be received, unless to postpone, amend, or commit, and no new one shall be admitted under colour of amendment, as a substitute of the motion under debate.

12th.

12th. No person but members of the House, or its officers shall be admitted within the bar, except parties, their counsel and witnesses while their causes are in hearing, unless upon the invitation of the speaker.

13th. No bill shall be introduced but by motion for leave or by order of the House on the report of a committee, and shall not pass to be enacted until the same shall be read three times, the first reading shall be for information, and if no opposition shall be made, or the question to reject the bill negatived, a time shall be assigned for a second reading. And no bill shall be read a third time till an adjournment of at least one hour take place after the second reading.

14th. Before any bill, resolve or vote shall be sent to the Senate the speaker shall read the vote, resolve or title of the bill, and a bill shall not be sent up by less than two members of the House, and all votes and resolves that are necessary to be carried to the Senate for their concurrence, shall be sent by the assistant clerk.

15th. No bill, resolve or vote shall be re-considered when there is a less number of members in the House than there was at passing the same.

16th. No member shall be compelled to serve on a committee, being at the same time of two other committees who have not reported, nor shall any person nominate more than one person for the same committee, provided the person so nominated shall be chosen, nor shall any member after having been himself chosen, nominate one for the same committee.

17th. No petition shall be received by the House unless it be presented by a member thereof, and upon motion made for that purpose.

18th.

18th. The journal of the preceding day shall be read every morning previous to entering upon new business.

19th. No member of the House shall either directly or indirectly take any fee or reward for bringing forward or supporting any petition or motion before the legislature or either branch of the same, or committee thereof, and by receiving the same or accepting any promise or compensation therefor, he shall forfeit his seat in the House.

20th. All committees shall consist of three members, unless motion is made for a different number, which report was accepted.

Motion was then made that there be an additional rule in the following words: "That the nomination of all committees raised in this House shall be made by the speaker unless otherwise specially directed by the House, which motion prevailed, and the rule adopted and established."

Amos Shepherd, President of the Senate, and the said President declared, the said John Taylor Gilman, Esq. Governor of the State of New-Hampshire.

His Excellency the Governor then addressed the Legislature in the following words :

Fellow

Fellow citizens of the Senate, and of the House of Representatives.

On this annual meeting of the legislature it affords me much pleasure that I can with propriety congratulate you on the union and Harmony so generally prevailing throughout the State.

But while this affords great satisfaction, and will be a strong resource in any events, the circumstances of our national affairs appear alarming in a high degree. When I was first honored with an appointment to the office I now hold, the conduct of a foreign nation towards our own was such as to induce an apprehension that a resort to arms might become unavoidably necessary. In the answer of the legislature to my address at that time will be found the sentiments which then prevailed in this State. The government of the United States ardently desirous of peace, attempted, and finally accomplished a treaty by which existing difficulties were adjusted, and war avoided.

Since that period another foreign nation with whom we were more particularly connected by treaties, and whose prosperity and happiness was desired by almost every citizen of the United States, has committed violent depredations on our navigation and commerce. Its agents and some of its citizens who have been heretofore treated with much indulgence and attention in our country have insulted the government, and endeavoured to make a separation between it and the people by exciting suspicions and jealousies as to the views and measures of those who have been appointed to administer it.

Still desirous of peace and harmony an attempt was made for accommodation by sending a worthy minister to that country, he was not received; two other persons sons highly respectable for abilities and integrity have been joined with him, and by the last information they were not received or acknowledged. The instructions given those commissioners exhibit in the clearest and simplest manner, an earnest desire for adjusting existing difficulties, for preserving peace, and restoring harmony between the two nations—but as these instructions and the communications from the commissioners have been made public it is not necessary for me to be more particular.

What consequences may flow from the present state of things, cannot be fully foreseen, but enough is already known to induce us to place ourselves in the best possible state of preparation for guarding and defending our rights and privileges.

Although it appertains to the general government to determine proper measures to be pursued, yet it appears highly probable that the aid and exertions of each State in particular, may be indispensably necessary. In circumstances so critical the state of our finances, and of our militia, are highly important. The state of the Treasury will be before you. The Militia are in general in as good order as could be expected under existing circumstances; in many instances great and highly patriotic exertion have been made—they are not so well armed as could be wished, and some artillery companies might be very useful in case they could be supplied with proper field pieces.

The harbour of Portsmouth, is far from being in a proper state of defence—what measures may be taken by the United States, as it respects the fortress and territory ceded to them, I cannot say, but there are other places in the harbour which are well situated for defense if proper provision was made therefor.

The act entitled "An Act for the limitation of actions and for the preventing vexatious suits" will be in operation in September next, as it respects certain actions of debt and others, if not further extended by the legislature. Apprehending it may compel many persons to commence actions that otherwise would not, is my inducement for mentioning this subject.

Such acts and resolves as you may think proper to pass will meet my particular attention, and it will be my constant endeavour to promote the union, harmony, peace and prosperity of the people who have so repeatedly placed confidence in me, by their free suffrages to the office I now have the honor to hold.

JOHN TAYLOR GILMAN.

State of New-Hampshire, June 11, 1798.

His Excellency the Governor and the Honourable Council then withdrew.

The Senate and House being convened in the Representatives chamber agreeably to adjournment, agreed to adjourn until to-morrow at 4 o'clock, P. M. and the Senate withdrew.

Voted that Mr. Plummer, Mr. N. White, Mr. Moore, Mr. N. Parker and Mr. Blasdell be a committee to draught an answer to his Excellency's address, and lay the same before this House.

The committee appointed by an act of the Legislature, passed at the last session, for establishing the line between Kingstown and East-Kingstown, reported as follows, viz.

State of New-Hampshire.

The undersigned a committee appointed by an act of the legislature of this State, a copy of which is herewith exhibited, have agreeably to their directions duly notified the towns of Kingstown and East-Kingstown, viewed the premises and heard the parties with their allegations, and have agreed to report, that considering all circumstances the line herein after described will be the most proper to divide the said towns, viz. Beginning at Newtown line and running north through or across the center or middle of a line drawn from the meeting house in Kingstown to the meeting house in East Kingtown, being the same line established by an act of the legislature in the year of our Lord 1740 ; and so continuing north until it comes within the distance of one mile and eighty rods of Brentwood line, thence to turn off and run straight to Exeter line at a place three quarters of a mile distant westerly from Kensington corner ;—provided however that Peter Sanborn, Esq. with such of his estate as he now owns, and was formerly polled into Kingstown, be considered as belonging to said Kingstown during the natural life of said Sanborn ; and that such estate of Col. Ebenezer Stevens as lays in East-Kingstown, and was formerly polled into Kingstown, be considered as belonging to Kingstown during the natural life of said Stevens.

Witness our hands at Kingstown the 20th of April 1798.

EBENEZER THOMPSON,

The committee to draught an answer to his Excellency's address reported as follows :

May

May it please your Excellency,

The House of Representatives with sincere pleasure congratulate you on the unanimity of the suffrages of a free and independent people who have again called you to preside over their interests, and exercise the powers of the most important office in their disposal.

Alarming as the situation of our national affairs appear, 'tis with great satisfaction, we find that the government of the United States have adopted and pursued every fair and honorable measure which sound policy and an inviolable attachment to the interests of our country required. And that they have steadily persevered in means well calculated to obtain a fair and amicable adjustment of existing differences with the French republic.

From the distinguished character of our envoys, the liberal and accommodating views of our government, we indulged the pleasing hope that their embassy would prove successful, and that the French nation from a sense of justice would make compensation for the unprovoked injuries done to our citizens. But 'tis with regret and indignation we find that republic wantonly destroying our commerce, insulting our government, treating our ambassadors with scorn and contempt, and insidiously endeavouring to weaken and destroy the confidence of our citizens in the constituted authorities of our country. Although we believe that the blessings of honorable peace are worthy of great sacrifices, yet even peace purchased with the loss of our liberty and independence is a greater evil than war.

The unanimity and harmony, the firm, yet steady attachment of the citizens of the United States in general, and of this State in particular to the government of their choice, will be a strong and never failing resource in every event.

And

And whatever disagreeable consequences may result from the present unfortunate state of things, we are ready to co operate with you and with the general government in every measure, which shall effectually guard, secure and defend our invaluable rights and privileges.

The defence of the harbour at Portsmouth merits and shall receive that prompt attention which its importance requires.

The state of our finances and of our militia are objects of too much consequence to be neglected by the Representatives of an enlightened and vigilant people.

And be assured sir, that we fully confide in your wisdom and integrity, and promptness, to concur with us in every measure calculated to promote the public good.

Which report being read and considered, was received and accepted.

Voted that Mr. Plummer, Mr. N. Parker, Mr. Shepherd, Mr. Whipple, Mr. Connor, Mr. I. Waldron, Mr. Betton, Mr. Blafdel, Mr. Pinkertan and Mr. R. Parker be a committee to present to his Excellency the Governor the answer to his address.

The House met according to adjournment.

THE committee to draught an address from the legislature of this State to be presented to the President of the United States, reported the following :

To

To the President of the United States.

SIR,

At a time when the American nation is on the point of being drawn into the vortex of European war, we flatter ourselves that an address from the legislature of New Hampshire will not be unacceptable.

Permit us, sir, to express our entire satisfaction in the wisdom and energy of your administration, and that of your predecessors—The unremitted perseverance which has marked your endeavours to adjust and settle our disputes with France, displays in the strongest colours, your desires of peace.

Although the political situation of this country is distressing and alarming, yet, no measures on your part have been wanting that could honorably render it otherwise.

We consider the instructions given our Envoys as sufficient and ample for every purpose of honorable and equitable negotiation. We feel the indignity which has been offered them; we feel with resentment the wrongs and injuries done our commerce by French depredation.

A firm request and dignified demand have not procured us redress, and, we add with regret that we fear the apparent disposition of the government of France, renders further negotiation unnecessary.

We do not tax ourselves with ingratitude to the French nation—that debt which we contracted under the Monarchy of France, we anticipated and paid to the Executive government of that country—And it will always be recollected that we were the first nation to acknowledge the Republic of France.

It

It is with pleasure, we contemplate the encreasing firmness of our National Legislature.

By union, our independence can be maintained—by division it is lost forever—to divide and conquer has been (we are sensible) too often successfully practiced, to the destruction of governments and nations, but, we are happy to assure you that the opposition in the State of New-Hampshire to the administration of the Federal government is much too contemptible to merit the name of division.

Although we deprecate the evils and scourges of war, yet, Sir, we more sensibly feel the insults offered the dignity of our country. Our Independence was won and established by the blood and fatigues of the brave; it is a boon which we will never sacrifice at the shrine of foreign rapacious ambition. If declining Rome, bought her peace of the ancient Gauls with money—yet we shall never give our consent to pay a disgraceful tribute to Gauls more modern.

When our country call, our war-worn soldiers and the hardy youth of our hills, at the first found of the clarion of danger will cheerfully and unitedly rally around the standard of independence and defend it with their blood.

The disorganizer may seek protection under the colours of France, but as for us and our constituents we will shelter ourselves under the wings of the American Eagle.

Accept sir, our united declarations to support and defend the constituted authorities of our country with our lives and fortunes.

Accept our warmest wishes for your personal welfare and happiness, long may you continue to watch over the safety of the community.

The committee appointed at the last session to settle the accounts between this State and the Treasurer thereof, and report at the next session their proceedings, together with the state of the treasury, reported in the following words, viz.

State of New-Hampshire.

Exeter, May 10, 1798.

Pursuant to a vote of the General Court passed at Portsmouth, Dec. 19, 1797, appointing us a committee to settle the accounts between this State and the Treasurer thereof, and report at the next session our proceedings, together with the state of the treasury. We report that we have carefully examined the Treasurer's accounts from April 20, 1797, the date of the last settlement to April 20, 1798, and have received of him as follows, viz.

An account of stock in the funds amounting to two hundred thirty-nine thousand five hundred and three dollars forty five cents, discharged by specie account for reimbursements on 6 per cent stock to April 1, 1798, two thousand four hundred fifty-one dollars sixteen cents; and by stock on hand two hundred thirty seven thousand and fifty-two dollars twenty-nine cents.

An account for interest on funded stock amounting to 10776 dollars and one cent, accounted for by account of stock in the funds 2451 dollars 16 cents, and by specie account 8324 dollars 85 cents.

An account of excise bonds amounting to £582 9 8, discharged by specie account £229 10 8, and by sundry bonds on hand for the balance being £352 19/.

An

An account for impost bonds amounting to £88 17/10 discharged by specie account for £14 9 2. and by bonds on hand for £74 8 8.

An account of interest received on Mosonian bonds amounting to £1083 15 3 accounted for by specie account for £379 6 3 the value thereof at 7/ on the pound.

An account of state notes and certificates amounting to £1923 8 10 discharged by state notes, orders for state notes and interest thereon, and certificates delivered to the committee.

An account of certificates and indents amounting to £745 17 4 accounted for by indents on hand £137 7 6, abatement of tax on Cardigan £70 2 7, by specie account for £14 19, received for £42 13 10 at 7/ on the pound, and by taxes outstanding £495 13 5.

An account for bills of new emission and interest paid thereon amounting to 1343 dollars 26 cents, accounted for by taxes outstanding 100 dollars 97 cents, and by bills delivered to the committee with interest 1242 dollars 29 cents.

An account for deficiency of soldiers amounting to £506 11 7 balanced by taxes outstanding for said sum.

An account for bounties paid for killing wolves 180 dollars accounted for by specie account for said sum.

An account of specie amounting to 70,623 dollars 72 cents accounted for as follows, viz. by amount paid for orders drawn by the Executive 9,048 dollars 68 cents. Sundry rolls for travel and attendance of the Council, Senate, House of Representatives and Electors 17,519 dollars dollars 47 cents ; interest on funded stock due to sundry persons 42 dollars 59 cents ; sundry private notes amounting to 401 dollars 63 cents ; by state note and certificate account for 4808 dollars 60 cents paid for £. 1923. 8 10 in state notes and certificates delivered to the committee ; paid for killing wolves 180 dollars ; by new emission account for amount paid for bills of the new emission 310 dollars 57 cents ; by specie taxes outstanding 731 dollars 96 cents ; abatement of tax on Cardigan 47 dollars 70 cents ; abatement of tax on Claremont in part 149 dollars 33 cents, and by specie said to be on hand for the balance 37,383 dollars 19 cents.

There appears to be due on rolls for travel and attendance of Representatives, &c. 141 dollars 99 cents, and to sundry persons for interest on funded stock 38 dollars 73 cents, as by abstracts made out and certified by us.

The new emission money, state notes, orders, certificates and rolls (vouchers of the several accounts above mentioned) are in the hands of your committee.

From the above accounts and other information we are enabled to exhibit the statement hereto annexed, which, if accurate, leave a balance of fifteen thousand one hundred and eleven dollars and four cents in favor of the State, the several descriptions of State debts being first paid, beside which balance the annual income from the New Hampshire Bank is eight hundred thirty two dollars, and from the stock in the funds of the United States ten thousand seven hundred seventy six dollars.

The accounts are accurate and well vouched, except that your committee received no evidence that the money was actually in the treasury, presuming from the tenor of our appointment that such evidence would be expected by the Court, information was requested of the

the Treasurer in that particular, who declined giving any other than that the money should always be ready to meet the demands on the treasury.

JOHN GODDARD, }
JOSEPH CILLEY, } Committee.
Wm. PLUMMER, }

Which report being read and considered, was received and accepted.

Voted that Mr. Plummer, Mr. Connor and Mr. Leavitt be a committee to receive from the committee who settled the Treasurer's accounts, all the papers received of the Treasurer by said committee, and to deface the orders and new emission money by punching the same, to destroy all the State notes and certificates, and lodge the new emission money and orders with the Treasurer after they are thus defaced, and report at the next session.

Adjourned to 8 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Tuesday, June 19, 1798.

The House met according to adjournment.

THE committee on the petition of William Page, Esq. reported that the prayer of the petitioner be so far granted that the Bellow's falls company be allowed to take for loaded boats fifty cents per ton, and for lumber fifty cents per ton, and for an empty boat twenty-five cents per ton for the term of five years, and that the petitioner have leave to bring in a bill accordingly, which report being read and considered, was received and accepted.

His Excellency the Governor communicated the following statement, made to him by the Treasurer, of the state of the treasury.

Hopkinton, June 8th, 1798.

SIR,

According to the usual custom, I herewith forward to you a statement of the treasury and list of out standing taxes—I have received since the close of my accounts on the 20th of April last, 8662 dollars, in bills of the new emission exclusive of interest due on them—1029 dollars 92 cents in state notes and certificates, including interest, and have paid order to the amount of 996 dollars 54 cents—all which amount in specie to 5802 dollars 22 cents, and reduce the money on hand to 31580 dollars, 97 cents.

Having been favoured by the committee appointed to settle my accounts with a part of their report, I find it there stated "that they presumed from the tenor of their appointment that evidence of the money being actually in the treasury would be expected—That information was requested of the treasurer, who declined giving any other than that the money should be always ready to meet the demands on the treasury."—Here I must beg leave to be indulged with a few observations—When I considered considered that I had given bonds to the State and procured respectable bondsmen of good property—That I had not only been ready, but solicitous, to discharge all demands against the State—That the request was novel—that it had in no prior instance been made—I presume, no one will think it strange that I should feel hurt by such a request.

The gentlemen composing the committee whom I respect, presumed it to be the intention of the Legislature, that they should count the money in the treasury, but such intention not appearing to me to be expressed in the vote appointing them—I did not think it proper to produce it.

It has always been my wish, and I know it to be my duty, to satisfy the Legislature, and for this purpose, I now declare that I have deposited in the New-Hampshire bank, for safe keeping, and have in my own possession, monies to the full amount due from me to the State, and that there has been no time, since I have been treasurer, when I could not have produced the money for which I was accountable.

I have the honour to be with great respect, your Excellency's very humble servant,

OLIVER PEABODY.

His Excellency JOHN TAYLOR GILMAN.

Treasury-Office, June 7, 1798,

Errors Excepted.

OLIVER PEABODY, Treasurer.

Adjourned to 6 o'clock to-morrow morning.

Wednesday, June 20, 1798.

The House met according to adjournment.

RESOLVED that the account of Josiah Nelson, amounting to sixty-five dollars and ninety-five cents be allowed and paid out of the treasury.

The committee appointed to take into consideration that part of his Excellency's address, respecting the situation of the artillery companies, and the expediency of purchasing such artillery as may be thought necessary—Report as their opinion, that it is expedient that the militia of New-Hampshire, be (as soon as may be) furnished with twelve brass field-pieces, including such as are on hand, and that the Captain General be, and hereby is authorized at the expence of this State, to furnish the same, in compleat order in such way and manner as he shall think best, and that a sum not exceeding three thousand land dollars, be appropriated for that purpose. And your committee further report that it appear to them not necessary at present to make any new arrangements respecting the companies, as the Commander in Chief, is duly authorized by law, to raise such number as he shall think most conducive to the welfare of the State.

Which report being read and considered, was received and accepted, and resolved that his Excellency the Governor take order accordingly.

The following vote came down from the Senate for concurrence :

IN SENATE, June 20, 1798.
